

Round 1: Community Development Seed Grant Application (April 2022)

The Community Development Grants Program is open exclusively to WMI Scholars. All graduate scholars AND student scholars who will complete their final exams by June 30, 2022 are eligible to submit grant proposals before the April 17, 2022 deadline.

The Community Development Grants Program is an opportunity for scholars to design initiatives to address community needs related to healthcare, education, the environment, women's rights, economic development and more.

We believe that local solutions are the best solutions. As a local leader within your community, you have a better understanding of the area's needs and your initiative will be rooted in community partnerships, engagement and trust.

This application form is for Seed Grant Funding.

Seed Grant Funding is a one-time grant of $100 to $1,000 USD. The seed grant is designed to help start, or significantly expand, a business, community-based organization, non-governmental organization, community service project or community event. If approved, the grant funds will generally be unrestricted and can be used for program expenses, operating expenses, materials and supplies, etc.

Eligibility Notes:

- 1.) You must be in their nation or have concrete plans to return to your nation for the full implementation of the initiative being proposed.
- 2.) Proposals must be related to your area of study/work and be implemented in the community that you are currently living or working.
- 3.) At this time, only graduate scholars who have studied a field of animal science or veterinary science are eligible to apply for animal-related projects.
